Synopsis: Uncle Rheem

Robert is a very respected FBI agent, who is after a family-man suspected of numerous murders, rapes, robberies, human trafficking, narcotics, and gambling. He had never been arrested. All witnesses seem to either vanish or be murdered in the most ghastly manner.

Meet Samuel -- a guy who is connected. Robert gets the FBI to create a task force comprised of all the government agencies to go after Sam’s worldwide criminal organization.

Samuel was always one step ahead but this time Robert felt certain he would put him behind bars. However, this time it costs Robert his family. We flashback to the beginning of how it all unfolded. A hunt to uncover the truth until Samuel is dead.